LUIS A. RODRIGUEZ VAZQUEZ

This is a very naturally-made wine from Ribeiro’s most respected winemaker. A blend of 85% Treixadura with Albarino, Torontes and Lado sourced from vines with an average age of 40 years. It spent six months in tank on its lees and was bottled without filtration. Exotic, high-pitched aromas of tangerine, lime, floral honey, licorice, gingerbread and crushed stone. Densely packed and mineral-driven. Creamy and pliant, with excellent finishing clarity and lingering minerality. One of Spain’s finest handmade white wines.

“Ribeiro wine excels in a modern winemaking market suffering from a predominance of extremely homogenous, monotonous wines lacking in character.” – Luis Rodriguez

Luis Rodríguez is unanimously acknowledged as one of the top two producers in the DO Ribeiro. He is also the president of the D.O.

Ribeiro lies between Rías Baixas and Ribeira Sacra, at the confluence of the Miño, Arvia and Arnoia Rivers. Though not well-known outside of Spain, Ribeira boasts a distinguished history of wine production dating to Roman times. Luis farms a tiny bodega in the town of Arnoia and produces four wines, two red and two white. Less than 500 cases of each wine is made. The whites are blends of Treixadura, Albariño, Torrontés, Godello and Lado, while the reds are blended from Brancellao, Caiño, and Ferrol. All of the wines are fermented with natural yeasts and bottled unfiltered.

“Luis Rodriguez is the highly respected head of the Ribeiro DO but one who maintains a low profile.”
